

Rockefeller and Wife Part After 31 Years

By ROBERT HOLTON

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his wife have parted in the first step toward a divorce to end 31 years of marriage.

The decision to dissolve the union of the Philadelphia heiress and the wealthy, potential Republican presidential candidate was announced Friday night in a terse statement issued on behalf of both.

A spokesman said the agreement to separate was "amicable." A political aide to the governor said the divorce would "absolutely not" affect Rockefeller's plans to run for reelection next year.

Although Rockefeller has not publicly acknowledged it, he is considered a strong possibility for the 1964 GOP nomination for president.

The terse announcement of the separation and divorce plans was issued from the Rockefeller family offices in Rockefeller Plaza and read:

"It was announced today that Governor and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller have arrived at an agreement of legal separation.

"It is anticipated that the terms of the agreement will be incorporated into a subsequent decree of divorce.

"Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller were married in 1930. They have five adult children.

"There has been an agreement property settlement and Mrs. Rockefeller will continue to live at a New York apartment at 810 Fifth Avenue. Governor Rockefeller will reside at the apartment of his brother, Laurence S. Rockefeller.

The governor is 53 and his wife 54. The couple have three sons and two daughters, all living away from home, and eight grandchildren.

All except Michael, the youngest son, are married. He is now in Dutch Guiana with an archeological expedition.

The impending divorce will be the second among the five sons of the late John D. Rockefeller Jr., Winthrop Rockefeller, a younger brother of the governor, was divorced from Barbara (Bobo) Sears in a spectacular court suit several years ago.

Mrs. Rockefeller was reported staying in New York Friday night and her husband at their estate in Tarrytown, N.Y.

Although neither was available for comment, a family spokesman said the divorce would be sought outside New York where the only ground for such action is adultery.

Strikes Are Sweeping Dominican

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A wave of strikes is sweeping the Dominican Republic for the first time since the late Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo broke up a big walkout of sugar workers in 1946. Various groups seek higher wages and other benefits.

Police fired guns and noise bombs Thursday to disperse the crowds milling in the heart of Santiago, the republic's second city, in a demonstration of sympathy for striking taxi and bus operators. The strikers want a change in operating fees and reduction of gasoline and oil prices.

Inter-city travel was restricted and the strike movement spread to Ciudad Trujillo's public market. Stall operators demanded a reduction in municipal taxes.

Workers in a meat processing plant halted operations.

Speculation still buzzed around the unexpected return to this island nation Wednesday of two of the late dictator's brothers—Jecator and Jose Arismendi Trujillo—after a brief period of self-imposed exile abroad.

President Joaquin Balaguer announced Oct. 25 that both had departed in response to opposition demands that the Trujillo family clear out pending a reorganization of the government. They went to Bermuda.

Thanksgiving Something to Be Thankful for in U. S. Where People Are Still Free

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The observance in our land known as Thanksgiving is right around the corner of the calendar.

In a world filled with ill-will, mistrust and misery has the word Thanksgiving become meaningless? We think not after asking several Hope citizens "What is one of the things you are most thankful for?"

"I couldn't put it in words," said one of our subjects, "but each of us to some question, the replies received were most interesting."

MRS. OLIN LEV. "I am thankful that I live in this country where there is freedom of things to do and the opportunity to satisfy our spiritual wants."

MRS. A. Q. SMITH "Heading my list of things for which I am most thankful is a good home, and the good health enjoyed by my three children, six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild."

McDOWELL TURNER: "Like many others who have been through one or more wars, I am grateful for peace, however unstable, which exists today. Then, of course, my home, my family, and my church are important items on my list of things for which I am most thankful."

REV. S. JOSEPH GENO: "I am most thankful for my salvation due to the Lord's death on the cross which gives me hope for an eternal life."

MRS. AARON CROSS: "To me material things are of secondary importance to the Four Freedoms which we are privileged to have, sometimes fail to appreciate, and may even abuse."

MRS. L. A. FOSTER: "The right to worship as we please in America is our country's greatest contribution to its citizens, and I am grateful to be a part of that fortunate number."

TALBOT FIELD JR.: "Having good health, a fine family, and a wonderful country make me sincerely thankful for those and many other blessings which I have."

BILL WRAY: "I am most thankful that I am privileged to live each day as it comes, where I can say 'Just for today I will be unafraid.' Especially, I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful, and to believe that as I give to the world, so will the world give to me."

Downturn in Jobless May Be Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department reported signs today that this month may bring the long awaited downturn in the unemployment rate.

Analysis of the October figures on jobholders and jobhunters shows that nonfarm payrolls and the monthly earnings of factory workers both hit highs in October, the department announced, and the factory work week lengthened.

The rise in industrial payrolls to 55.3 million was better than seasonal. Coupled with the October pickup in retail sales, industrial production and housing starts, this suggested that unemployment at last may be about to dip below the recession rate of 6.8 per cent, a department spokesman said.

"We are hopeful that the rate will start moving down this month," said labor manpower expert, Seymour Wolfbein.

The overall job totals announced Nov. 3 showed employment up by 800,000 in October to 67.8 million, a better than seasonal gain. Joblessness was reduced by 150,000 to 3.9 million, but this was a seasonal drop which left unemployment substantially unchanged.

The factory work week lengthened by six tenths of an hour to an average of 40.3 hours. The September rate was sharply down because of the General Motors strike that month.

The weekly earnings of factory workers rose by an average of $2.21 to a record $94.71 in October. Hourly earnings moved to a high of $2.35.

Fellow Owes This Man Quite a Bit

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Henry Russell Troxler, 41-year-old veteran railroad engineer, was awakened early today by the crash of a truck which overturned at a railroad crossing near his home.

Troxler knew from experience that No. 48, a fast limited, was due within minutes. Meanwhile George Sexton, 52, of Greensboro, was unhurt but pinned in the truck which lay across the tracks.

Troxler seized a handful of flares, raced several hundred yards up the tracks, and started the flares, even as the train bore down on the accident.

The train stopped in the nick of time, by so close a margin that the cowcatcher struck the truck lightly.

Troxler pulled Sexton from the truck.

Suddenly Troxler realized that another train was due on the other track of the double line. He also halted that one with flares.

To top it off, Troxler went home, got his tractor, and pulled the truck off the tracks.

Troxler said it was the busiest half hour of his life.

He said the auditor move "would be a boon to making the farmer hire a bookkeeper to keep the work and pay records of the group."

"This type of information is already being, and has to be kept, by the farmer himself," he said.

Oil Allowance Could Run Into Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Frank Icard, D-Tex., said today the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., has removed "one of the real cornerstone supports" of the controversial 27½ per cent depletion allowance permitted the nation's petroleum industry.

Icard, who has resigned from Congress effective Dec. 15 to become executive director of the American Petroleum Institute, told a reporter, however, he thinks Congress will permit the allowance to continue.

Rayburn was among those who helped write into law in 1952—the 27½ per cent allowance. It permits producers of oil and natural gas to deduct that percentage from their annual federal income taxes in order to help finance exploration for new reserves.

The speaker who died Thursday in his home town of Bonham, Tex., was largely instrumental in continuing the law despite recurrent efforts of those who sought to reduce or abolish it.

A check among persons in the capital familiar with the situation indicated that none are worried about the immediate future of the allowance, but there was concern about the long-range effects that might arise as a result of Rayburn's passing.

Icard, a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax legislation, made this comment:

"I would not say we face the future with any fear, but the truth is Mr. Rayburn's death does mean that one of the real cornerstone supports of the depletion allowance program is gone."

"Probably more than anyone else, he helped to initiate and maintain it."

Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee is Rep. Wilbur Mills, a Democrat from the oil and gas producing state of Arkansas. Mills is on record in support for the 27½ per cent rate.

Against Auditor for Farm Labor

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., says there is a move afoot in Congress to require farmers to hire an auditor for groups of Mexican farm workers brought into the state.

And Gathings vowed to battle the move to the death because he said it is unnecessary and would be expensive.

In several speeches over his district, Gathings said a Mexican laborer program is important to Arkansas but Southern congressmen are having trouble explaining why labor should be imported when citizens in the area are drawing relief checks.

"They fail to realize that the unemployed can't or don't want to go to the fields and work," he said.

He said the auditor move "would be a boon to making the farmer hire a bookkeeper to keep the work and pay records of the group."

"This type of information is already being, and has to be kept, by the farmer himself," he said.

"We're off the ground," he said.

Dalton said he had talked with some of the other governors by telephone and they supported the plan.

U.S., Adenauer to Map Berlin Talk Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP)—With Chancellor Konrad Adenauer due here Sunday, the Kennedy administration hopes to work out in the next few days an U.S.-West German agreement that would lead to Western negotiations with Russia on a Berlin settlement.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk displayed administration readiness at a news conference Friday to try to come to terms with German views on Berlin issues during Adenauer's visit here. The West German chancellor and President Kennedy will open talks Monday.

Rusk declared the Communist wall sealing off East Berlin from West Berlin "certainly ought not to be a permanent feature of the European landscape." He branded the wall as a "monument to Communist failure in East Berlin and East Germany."

Rusk stopped short of saying—Adenauer said earlier this week—the removal of the wall must be a condition of any Berlin agreement with Russia. Authorities here see little prospect the Soviets will even consider tearing the wall down.

Rusk also said on another point publicly raised by Adenauer that the United States still stands by its offer to supply the North Atlantic Treaty Organization with a fleet of nuclear-missile Polaris submarines. They would operate under NATO command and could be used by NATO decisions.

On other issues, Rusk said in response to reporters' questions: 1. The "determined and ruthless campaign" of Communist North Viet Nam to destroy pro-Western Viet Nam, and subjugate it to Red rule is "a threat to the peace." Rusk said the problem might go to the United Nations "at some stage."

2. The main effort of the United States in defense of South Viet Nam at present is to speed up deliveries of military supplies with "some changes in the type of equipment delivered and in the nature of our training."

3. The "brutal murder" of 13 Italian airmen by mutinous troops in the Congo "horrified, distressed and shocked" the United States. The time has come, Rusk said, for U.N. members to act "more insistently" for peace and unity in the Congo.

4. The people of Finland "will have the strong support of people all over the world" in their attempts to maintain their independence and neutrality in the face of new Soviet pressures.

5. With the development of the Common Market creating economic unity in Europe, it is important for the United States to be able to "go out and bargain and negotiate and trade with other governments in order to protect our vital trading interests."

Rusk bore out indications the Kennedy administration will ask Congress for broad authority to make new foreign trade arrangements.

Adenauer told a news conference Thursday the West must enter into any negotiations with the Soviet Union from the strongest of bargaining positions. That, he said, called for strengthening of NATO military forces to permit them to wage nuclear warfare without White House clearance.

"I base this on an expert opinion by Gen. (Adolph) Heusinger who said that one hour may decide our fate and that the President may not be reachable to make a decision," Adenauer said. Heusinger, former chief of staff of West German armed forces, became chairman of the permanent NATO military committee last April.

At present, NATO has nuclear weapons on the European continent, but they are under exclusive U.S. control. Changes would be required in the U.S. Atomic Energy Act before the custody of the nuclear warheads could be shared with other nations.

Adenauer said that U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO supreme commander, "submitted a plan in September, 1960, to the previous administration but because of the elections it was not acted upon."

"As far as I know that plan now is before Kennedy," he added.

Norstad proposed to the annual meeting of the NATO parliamentarians' conference last November that "there should be a basic pool of atomic weapons with an equal voice in control of those weapons."

The chancellor called the news conference to discuss his views on questions he said would likely come up during his Nov. 20-21 meetings with President Kennedy in Washington.

Adenauer said removal of the Communists' wall between West and East Berlin must be the first arrive at generally agreed solutions on these important questions with which the organization is faced.

SHELTER INGENUITY—Framed by a ventilator hole, Cliff Bruce and his daughter Gayle, 15, rest in their unusual fallout shelter in Watsonville, Calif. It's made of concrete septic tank cylinders. Bruce, a septic tank installation contractor, connected three tanks together in a 10-foot hole in his front lawn. He has built two other shelters like this for customers who pay $850 for a six-person model and $1,250 for one accommodating nine persons. Santa Cruz County Civil Defense has approved the septic tank idea.

Ending Good Between Man and Union

EAST DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Barber Nick Palazzolo and his union are at peace again.

The family of crippled Frank Frazzitta, 26, has received even more help.

So the story of Palazzolo's $25 fine by his union has ended as happily as it could end under all the circumstances.

Palazzolo had been assessed the fine by Macomb County Local 525 of the Journeymen Barbers Union because he kept his shop open on a Wednesday in August, giving the $40 in receipts to Frazzitta.

A brain ailment has crippled Frazzitta, father of three sons.

Local 525 held that Palazzolo had violated union rules. Unionized barbershops close on Wednesdays in Macomb County.

Thursday night, Palazzolo, 45, himself the father of four, agreed to pay the fine—provided the money would be turned over to Frazzitta.

The union consented.

"We have union principles we won't sacrifice but that doesn't mean we haven't got hearts, too," said Joseph Muhlhaupt, Local 525 secretary-treasurer.

Sympathizers have sent another $50 to Palazzolo's shop. He has turned it over to the Frazzitta family.

UN Financial Crisis Not Yet Solved

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A special study committee reported today that it had been unable to find a formula to pay for peacekeeping operations which have plunged the United Nations into a grave financial crisis.

The 15 nation group was established by the General Assembly last April after it seemed the huge costs of the Congo operation and the U.N. Middle East force would bankrupt the United Nations unless urgent action was taken.

Many countries, including the Soviet bloc, refused to pay any share of the Congo costs. Others protested that the system of assessments placed undue burdens on small countries. The costs are now being met by borrowing and by voluntary contributions from the United States and others.

In a detailed report, the 15 nation committee disclosed that it was split wide open on almost every proposal discussed in two series of meetings held during the summer and fall.

It said frankly that it was not possible "to find a sufficiently large area of agreement out of which it could present a set of recommendations for consideration by the General Assembly."

This virtually ruled out any action to end the mounting deficit at the current assembly session.

U.N. financial reports show the balance due on Congo assessments for 1960 is $19 million and for 1961 is $38 million. Failure of members to pay their assessments on the U.N. Middle East force has been creating a deficit of about $5 million a year since 1956.

The study committee suggested that "further efforts should be made on a continuing basis to arrive at generally agreed solutions on these important questions with which the organization is faced."

New Invasion, Shouts Castro

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Thursday night that the United States is planning a new invasion which "could cost the lives of hundreds of thousands of Cubans."

Castro made the statement in a bitter attack on President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela who broke diplomatic relations with Cuba last week.

The Castro blast was carried on shortwave radio but was not broadcast to the Cuban public. It was not until mid-morning today that the government-controlled domestic radio began carrying excerpts from the talk.

Castro described Betancourt as "a miserable instrument of Yankee imperialism" and said his break with Cuba was a "servile and cowardly act."

"Now that the Yankee imperialism is trying a new invasion which could cost the lives of hundreds of thousands of Cubans, this vile puppet doesn't say a word," Castro declared.

The good flight signals a stepup in the Minuteman test flight program, with several more firings scheduled before the end of the year.

The Air Force needed a successful flight to make up for time lost when a Minuteman exploded seconds after the missile's first silo launching on Aug. 30.

The August failure was traced to a spurious guidance system signal which ignited the second stage as the missile cleared the silo. The second stage is intended to fire about a minute after launching.

Analysis of data also showed the missile was affected slightly by noise ricocheting off the sides of the silo. To remedy this, the hole used today was lined with a three inch thickness of a substance resembling acoustical tile.

Before launching, the missile rested on a hydraulically operated ring which hung suspended on metallic straps 17 feet from the bottom of the shaft. This system will permit Minuteman to remain pointed on its intended trajectory (even

Losses Alimony

LONDON (AP) — Marjorie Steele, former wife of American millionaire George Huntington Hartford II, wed a young British actor today—and lost about $60,000 a year in alimony.

Her new husband is Dudley Sutton, 29. Marjorie is 31. "Honestly, money was an embarrassment," she said. "Put it this way—we had yachts. The yachts sailed away, so what?"

Miss Steele won a divorce from Hartford, the A&P chain store heir, in New York last February. She was given a lump sum settlement of about $385,000 plus about $60,000 annually in alimony. The alimony was to stop if she remarried.

Institute Opens New Challenge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The new $2.2 million T. H. Barton Institute opens a new challenge and expanding opportunities in service and research. Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, said as the institution was dedicated Thursday.

The medical research facility is a new extension of the University of Arkansas Medical Center here, and Dr. Abner McGhee Harvey said it would yield important results "not only in the development of knowledge," but in maintaining the quality of the educational program of the school of Medicine.

Harvey, director of the Department of Medicine at Johns Hopkins University, and a native of Little Rock, headed a long list of leaders in the field of medicine and politics who gathered for the dedication.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Reps. Oren Harris and Dale Alford, D-Ark., took part.

Harvey said the fact that the institute was a joint project of private funds and federal money "indicates a broad appreciation in the community of the vital importance of this activity."

It is named for the late Col. T. H. Barton of El Dorado, who contributed $600,000 to get the fund started. More money came from other private donors, and the federal government gave about $1 million in Hill-Burton matching funds.

Cites Need of a New Constitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas needs a new state constitution to correct governmental evils on three major levels, Ouachita County Rep. David Pryor said Thursday night.

There's nothing wrong with Arkansas government except a mite of human weakness, and in fact Arkansas are getting excellent service from their officials, Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen retorted.

Pryor, 27, and Van Dalsen, 53, spent an interesting 90 minutes trying to prove these two points in a novel political debate here Thursday night.

It was held in the Arkansas Education Association Auditorium right across the street from the capitol.

The three levels Pryor hit hardest were the county governments, in which he said county judges rule like lords; the election system, and the grand jury system.

Van Dalsen accused him of irresponsible generalizing. And, Van Dalsen added, if the county judges make mistakes, the people don't have to re-elect them.

Pryor cited a case involving the Conway County Grand jury. He said the jury report cleared election officials of irregularities by pleading the officials' ignorance of the laws and the fact that the practices were customary in Conway County.

And, speaking of grand juries and county judges, Pryor said, in one county the grand jury looked like a family reunion for the county judge.

"The county judge is the complete authority in the county as to who is hired, fired or favored," Pryor said.

Many Arkansans, he added, believe that grand juries are "mere whitewash societies."

In addition to holding the balance of power in the counties, Pryor added, the county judges have the most powerful lobby in the legislature.

Van Dalsen said the greatest cause of corruption in government is special interest groups.

"And the worst and most uncompromising is your women's groups," he said. The debate was sponsored by the American Association of University Women.

State Union Must Hold New Election

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Teamsters Union Local 878, which has 3,000 members in Arkansas and Texas, will hold a new election Dec. 16 to substitute for an election last Dec. 17 which has been voided by the Labor Department.

Donald H. Williams of New Orleans, area director of the Bureau of Labor-Management Reports of the department, said his agency's investigations revealed that Local 878 had violated five provisions of the Landrum-Griffin Law in its election.

The local did not admit the violations, but agreed to hold another election rather than face possible federal court action.

Williams said the violations were:

Failing to properly control distribution of ballots and failing to safeguard voted ballots.

Failing to afford an equal opportunity for the membership to nominate officers by petition.

Intimidation by incumbent officers of members who attended opposition meetings.

Failing to distribute absentee ballots properly.

Panama Is Seeking to Control Canal

PANAMA (AP) — The National Assembly Thursday night unanimously demanded a new treaty with the United States which would fix date for the United States to turn over the waterway to Panama.

The assembly resolution was adopted within 24 hours of the publication of correspondence between Presidents Kennedy and Roberto Chiari on negotiations for a new treaty.

Chiari on Sept. 8 had written Kennedy that their governments should try again to resolve longstanding differences over the Canal Zone, starting this time from scratch. Kennedy in a letter Nov. 22 agreed the differences must be discussed thoroughly and frankly and indicated his government would be ready for talks in 1962 after it restudied current and future needs from the canal.

The resolution called for replacement of the present treaties — under which the United States holds the canal zone in perpetuity — by a new treaty satisfying 13 "minimum aspirations" of the Panamanian people. These included affirmation of Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone and a fixed date for Panama to take over the canal.

No date was specified.

Policeman, Watchman Charged

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor David Whittington filed charges against a policeman and a night watchman today in connection with a liquor store burglary which resulted in suspension of five officers.

The Civil Service Commission fired the charged officer, then restored two of the suspended officers to duty and announced two others have agreed to take lie detector tests.

Whittington charged the officer, D. L. White, with receiving stolen property and the watchman, George Warren, with larceny for allegedly taking $20 from the store and dividing it with White.

Restored to duty, effective today, were Lt. Henry Hogg and Joe Wall. Patrolmen Euell Smith and Bobby Digby remain on suspension pending the taking of lie detector tests.

Whittington said, White, Warren, Hogg and Wall took lie detector tests in Oklahoma City Nov. 10. He said results of the tests implicated White, who in turn implicated Warren. The test cleared Hogg and Wall, Whittington said.

White, 29, has been a member of the police force since February, 1955. He is married and has three children.

Warren has been employed by a group of merchants to check their property periodically during the night.

The $20 and a quantity of liquor was reported stolen from the Fiesta Liquor Store on the night of Oct. 26.

Bishops Say School Aid to All or None

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's Roman Catholic bishops have declared again their opposition to "any form of general federal aid to education that discriminates against children attending nonpublic schools."

But whether they are unanimous in this stand could not be confirmed among church sources today. These sources said, however, that Thursday night's statement by the bishops seems to clarify a stand taken last March by a smaller body of prelates.

The new statement began by saying the bishops had reaffirmed their stand on the school aid issue, but it did not say that particular phraseology was agreed to unanimously. The word "unanimously" was used, however, in another part of the three-paragraph statement.

Nearly 200 of the 228 bishops in this country took part in the conference that produced the statement. Last March a group of about 15 bishops made a similar statement, using slightly different phraseology.

The Yule gift of beauty is an easy one to buy, always rates a warm welcome. Classic perfume (left) comes in crystal bottle for dressing table and in spray size for purse. Gelee for the bath (upper center) is soothing to the skin, pleasantly scented. Spray cologne in concentrated form (lower center) comes in sleek oval bottle with gift cap, is budget-priced. Spray mist and bath-powder are scent matched (right) in this canary colored gift set.

Fresh-from-the-garden casualness marks this autumn bouquet, delivered in a plastic shell sized to fit urn on table.

Spartan Navy Wife
Speaks Up!

BY HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE — Here is a latter in reply to one published recently from a lonely young Navy wife:

Dear Helen: A true Navy wife never speaks of the loneliness in women whose husbands are in the her heart after her man takes to Navy, Army, Air Force, Coast sea, not even in letters to him.

As for baby being born without Dad around, the Navy has an old saying, "He must be there for the laying of the keel, but not for the launching." If a young Navy wife's husband is gone for but six months at a time, she's lucky.

I considered myself lucky when my husband was away only 15 months. Many are absent for two and three years. While my husband is away I catch up on the things I've always wanted to do but never had the time for: sewing, reading that favorite book again, learning to knit, and trying out new recipes to spring as a surprise when he does come home. I send him little surprises in the mail: cookies, a book he might enjoy, cigars, cigarettes or pipe tobacco.

Every service wife finds her own way of bridging the gap and marking off the days until her little family is complete once again. Some take office jobs, though I don't advocate this if you have little children. They need you all the more when Dad is gone. Others, as I do, join some civic group organized for the betterment of the town in which they are stationed.

Above all, the little lonely young Navy wife should never mope at home. Get a girl friend to take in a movie with you or invite a bunch of the girls in for cards. Maybe that old lady down the street would like to come over for hot buttered popcorn and TV. If you and your husband love each other as much as you say, these enforced separations will only strengthen your love for one another.

If you think I've not got much sympathy for you, you're right. I, along with thousands of other women whose husbands are in the Navy, Army, Air Force, Coast Guard and Marines, suffer just as much as you do. But don't forget, girl, your husband chose the saying, "He must be there for the laying of the keel, but not for the launching." If a young Navy wife's husband is gone for but six months at a time, she's lucky.

We are the lucky couples. We don't have time for quarrels and misunderstandings. We are too busy just being happy when we are together.

You may think me an old fuddy-duddy but I'm not. My husband is 23, I am 21 and a Happy Navy Wife.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Rights Commission report cites Little Rock as an example of both positive and negative effects of leadership in violence regarding racial matters.

REAPS PLAUDITS—Dolores Faith is a newcomer to films but her work already is winning favorable comment. Her next movie will be "Wild Harvest," filmed in Florida.

GIRL TO WATCH—Her role is only that of a maid to Jane Mansfield in "It Happened in Athens." But Greek actress Maria Xenia already has turned it into a contract to appear in four more U.S. films. This classic beauty is only 24 but her ability on stage and screen has won her many fans in her native land.

CRACKER—This is no missile on the launching pad, but a huge reactor in Standard Oil of Ohio's Isocracking unit at Toledo. It will be used in the production of gasoline, jet and diesel fuels. Weighing 400 tons, it is the heaviest single piece of equipment ever erected in a refinery.

Complaints Against Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The two television, it letters from viewers television, it letters from viewers to this columnist are an indication, are about stepped-up sound often used when the commercials take over the screen and sharp annoyance with much background music.

"Background music is fine," runs a typical complaint on the latter subject, "but there is too much of it and it is too loud. I don't need a lot of screeching and grinding to tell me the person I'm watching on the screen is in danger or frightened. Sometimes a quiet footfall—or no sound at all—can be twice as eerie because that's the way it would be in real life. The same for fight scenes."

The real trouble with annoying background music, obviously, is that it is handled incompetently. Just as in motion picture scoring, the test is whether the viewer is conscious of the music. If it is not serving its purpose, if the hero, in danger, is inching his way through the shrubbery to the climax, and the audience is thinking about the sharp bongo beat of a percussion instrument, the drama is ruined. If the melody played by the romantic stringed instruments is a catchy tune, it captures attention at the expense of the dialogue and action.

Jacques Belasco, the composer who wrote the background music for tonight's "Vincent Van Gogh, A Self Portrait," on NBC (as well as for NBC's religious classic, "The Way of the Cross") estimates that, conservatively, at least half of the musical scoring of TV shows is poorly handled—particularly in shows using jazz backgrounds.

"The use of jazz has resulted in distorting the use of several instruments in a quest for new sounds," Belasco said. "I think part of the trouble is that so many TV producers are young men who have done most of their listening to music in nightclubs. They believe, therefore, that jazz music is good and noisy jazz is better."

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany agreed today that organized labor is suffering from too many strengthening internal feuds, but he said it has "come of age" as a potent force in American politics.

Meany said a drive to increase the proportion of worker votes paid off in the 1960 election—when the AFL-CIO supported President Kennedy in his race against Republican Richard M. Nixon.

Meany addressed the biennial convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union and president of the Industrial Union Department, complained this week that job rights battles between unions were needlessly draining the AFL-CIO resources that he said could better be spent organizing workers and seeking social improvements.

Meany said the problem was created by rivalries among union leaders, rather than among workers.

TV Station to Increase Its Power

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Television station KATV announced plans Thursday to move its transmitter, build a higher tower and increase its coverage.

Robert A. Doubleday, general manager of the station, said changes and improvements will cost an estimated $400,000.

KATV asked the federal Communications Commission earlier this week for authority to move its transmitter from Jefferson Springs, about halfway between Pine Bluff and Little Rock, to Ellis Mountain, near Martindale, southwest of Little Rock.

Doubleday said the FCC gave permission in May for KATV to go to full power, 316,000 watts, from the present 170,000 watts.

A. R. Garrett, chief engineer for the station, said the proposed changes would enable KATV to give city-grade coverage to Hot Springs, Morrilton, Conway and rural areas beyond these cities.

KATV's coverage would be increased by 50 per cent, Garrett said, and present coverage of Pine Bluff and Little Rock would not be affected.

Garrett said KATV's present antenna is 297 feet above ground and 1,300 feet above sea level while the new antenna will be 1,609 feet above ground and 2,249 feet above sea level.

Fat Man Has to Be Very Courageous

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes real courage today to be a fat man.

The fellow who packs a paunch is one of the unsung heroes of our times. He is the great nonconformist of this generation, and his protuberant tummy is a badge of distinction, a token of true bravery flaunted in the face of the calorie-counting mob.

Anybody today can be skinny and stroll the land like a rampant beanie. All you have to do is do without what most of mankind has struggled for over the last million years—food.

The dieters who go through this agony and wind up looking like a walking exclamation point may or may not be saints. But why do they have to regard all fat men as sinners—and their mortal enemies?

Every time these emaciated wretches meet an honest fat man they poke a bony finger in his chubby stomach and say things like:

"You're putting it on again, I see."

It is high time the fat men of America formed themselves into a protective society to guard themselves against detractors. They should carry a neon-lit sign on their stomachs saying:

"Please do not touch. Contents valuable."

A fat man, if left alone, is generally one of nature's noblemen. His crime, if any, is that he simply enjoys the good things of this world—and doesn't mind showing it. He is no hypocrite.

The ordinary fat man is peace

U. S. May Get a First in Space Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An elated admiral predicted today that with reasonable luck the United States will have the world's first satellite navigational system in operation before next year ends.

Rear Adm. Jack Monroe, head of the Navy's Astronautics Division, made his forecast after one of this country's most productive days of the space age.

Three new U.S. satellites soared into orbit Wednesday. The two that especially interested Monroe rode into space together in the nose of a single Thor-Able-Star rocket fired from Cape Canaveral Wednesday night. The third was another in the Air Force series of experiments in recovering capsules bearing data from space.

Monroe told a news conference the two-in-one launching "demonstrates the real capability the United States has in satellite technology."

Transit 4B, one of the satellites, is the fifth in a program aimed at developing a precise all-weather navigation system for ships, submarines and planes. It carries a nuclear power plant.

The unique accompanying 240-pound doorknob-shaped satellite is intended to test whether the earth's gravity can be utilized to hold a space vehicle in a position always facing the earth, for more efficient communications.

Monroe estimated the transit satellite system would permit accuracy in navigation to within about 500 feet. He said under present conditions, navigators are "doing all right" if they fix a position within two miles.

Although Monroe indicated the United States regards this project as essentially a peaceful navigation aid, it has obvious military implications. The satellites could, for example, be used by Polaris missile-firing submarines to get an accurate fix on targets.

A Discoverer satellite launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base Calif., rode the 43th rocket in a series of experiments in capsule recovery.

Villanova to Play in Sun Bowl

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Villanova University announced today it had accepted an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl football game at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 30 against a still-to-be named opponent.

Bowl opponent was expected to come from Among Furman, Memphis State, San Jose State, Utah State, Wichita and Wyoming. The selection, the spokesman said, should be made in a week to 10 days.

loving and law-abiding. He rarely robs banks, beats his wife, fights cops or cheats at pinocle. He wisely spends most of his energy enjoying himself. He doesn't have any energy left to get into trouble.

Secretly, he probably has a quiet pride in his large, economy-size stomach. It has many advantages. You can't beat it for showing off a Phi Beta Kappa key, and it makes a wonderful shield in pushing one's way through a left alone to go through life enjoying peace of mind—and a piece of cake, too. Their motto is, "Live and let live."

But skinny people won't let them. Skinny people can't stand the sight of a comfortable, contented fat man.

It's about time fat men started fighting back. Our suggestion is that on a given day Sunday, Nov. 19 at 3 p.m. Rev. E. A. Porchia of Camden will be guest speaker. Rev. M. S. Riley, pastor.

The Hopewell PTA will sponsor

its annual Thanksgiving Banquet in the Lunch room Tuesday night, Nov. 21. Guest speaker for the occasion will be B. W. Carter. Battle Seen for Successor to Mr. Sam

WASHINGTON (AP)—As an aftermath of Speaker Sam Rayburn's death, House Democrats may be caught up in a contest over who will become floor leader.

The possibility of a fight was raised Sunday by the disclosure that Rep. Richard Bolling of Missouri will seek the post left open when Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts steps up, as is expected, to the speakership.

While Bolling himself was not available for comment, it was learned on the best authority he will challenge Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma for the floor leadership.

Bolling had been the only name mentioned as a likely opponent of McCormack for the speakership.
His decision to run for the No. 2
post in the House high command made it almost certain McCormack would succeed Rayburn.

McCormack became acting speaker when cancer forced Rayburn to leave the capitol last August.

Albert was designated acting floor leader by McCormack and his formal election had been taken for granted until Bolling decided to make it a contest. Albert made his own entrance official Sunday night, when he formally announced at his McAlester, Okla., home that he would seek the post.

A caucus of House Democrats will select the new speaker and floor leader shortly before the House reconvenes Jan. 10. Unless Bolling or Albert withdraws before then, the caucus could develop into a knock-down, party-

13 Persons Go on Hungry Strike

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Thirteen persons arrested during widespread picketing of restaurants which refuse to serve Negroes went on a hunger strike in advance of their scheduled appearance in court today.

The six whites and seven Negroes were among a group of more than 400 who picketed some 100 restaurants in Baltimore and Annapolis Saturday. They were picked up on trespass charges and taken to Anne Arundel County jail after Antoine's restaurant in Annapolis refused to serve them.

About 125 persons participating in the campaign traveled from Baltimore to Annapolis Saturday night and picketed at the jail and in front of Gov. Millard Tawes' residence.

splitting affair that could jeopardize President Kennedy's legislative program, already in trouble in the House.

Bolling, 45, has long been identified with the liberal group in the House, although he calls himself a moderate. He has served since 1949 and is a member of the powerful Rules Committee, where he was Rayburn's chief spokesman.

Albert arrived at the House two years before Bolling and has been party whip—or assistant leader—for the past seven years. He is 53 and calls himself a moderate.

Supporting Albert is a strong group of Southerners headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va.,
chairman of the Rules Committee. He also has backing among Northern Democrats.

Bolling's supporters claim the backing of most of the Northern and Western liberals as well as some Southerners.

Court to Review Eavesdropping Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a case involving use of an eavesdropping device concealed in a prison room used for conferences between prisoners, their attorneys and friends.

The appeal was filed by Harry Lanza, who was sentenced to a year in jail for refusing to testify about conversations he had in the room in the Eastview prison
in Westchester County, N.Y.

Harry Lanza conferred with his brother, Joseph, after the latter was put in the prison on a charge of violation of parole. Joseph later was restored to parole and the parole action was investigated by the Joint Legislative Committee
on Government Operations.

The committee voted to grant
immunity from prosecution to Harry Lanza, but he refused to answer 19 questions.

State May Have
Record Deer Kill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A record
November deer kill is expected in Arkansas when the final results are tallied.

The first week-long split season ended Saturday, but actual figures will not be available until next week, Gus Albright of the State Game and Fish Commission, said.

Albright said early reports indicate a good season in the two areas opened this year to deer hunters for the first time.

According to unofficial reports,
more than 1,000 deer were killed in the White River National Wildlife Refuge, and about 700 kills were made in the area formerly occupied by the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot.

Arkansas hunters will have two

Rules Women Can Escape Jury Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court, with a big to women who feel their place is in the home, ruled unanimously today that states may relieve women of jury duty unless they volunteer to serve.

The decision was given in the case of Mrs. Gwendolyn Hoyt, sentenced in Florida in 1950 to 30 years imprisonment for killing her husband with a baseball bat.

In an appeal to the high tribunal, Mrs. Hoyt's lawyers argued she was unconstitutionally deprived of equal protection of the law because the jury that tried her was all-male. Florida law says:

"The name of no female shall be taken for jury service unless said person has registered with the clerk of the court her desire to be placed on the jury list."

Justice Harlan, delivering the decision which turned down Mrs.
Hoyt's appeal, said there has been an "enlightened emancipa-tion" of women over the years.

But still, he said, woman is considered to be the center of home and family life.

"We cannot say," he continued,
"that it is constitutionally impermissible for a state, acting in pursuit of the general welfare, to conclude that a woman should be relieved from the civic duty of jury service unless she herself determines that such service is consistent with her own special responsibilities."

Florida is not alone in this position, said Harlan. He related that of 47 states where women are eligible for jury service, 17
in addition to Florida, plus the District of Columbia, give women an absolute exemption.

Today's decision does not mean that all women who volunteer must be taken for jury service.
The decision simply upheld the Florida law which says no woman shall be taken unless she registers her desire to be put on the jury list.

In another action, the high court agreed to review a case involving use of an electronic eavesdropping device concealed
in a prison room used for conferences between prisoners, their lawyers and friends.

The appeal was filed by Harry Lanza, who was sentenced to a year in jail for refusing to testify about conversations he had in
the room in the Eastview prison
in Westchester County, N.Y.

Lanza conferred with his brother, Joseph, after the latter was put in the prison on a charge of violation of parole. Joseph later
was restored to parole and the
parole action was investigated by
the Joint Legislative Committee
on Government Operations.

The committee voted to grant
immunity from prosecution to
Harry Lanza, but he refused to answer 19 questions.

Among other actions, the high

LIVE BETTER--WITH Flameless ELECTRIC APPLIANCES

... IT'S YOUR BETTER WAY TO COOK!

You won't need a boat and a sea breeze to sail through a cool summer if you cook electrically! Modern electric ranges leave your kitchen as cool as foam-tipped waves. That's because electricity is pure power... eliminating old-fashioned methods which throw out heat, helter-skelter, into the kitchen. Just the heat needed to cook the world's best meals goes directly into the utensils and food, leaving the cook—and the air in her kitchen—fresh and cool. You'll have a summer vacation from work and worry—all year long—when you start cooking BETTER, electrically.

Birthday Party Held
Little Miss Mary Catherine Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Browning was the honoree at a party on her fifth birthday, Nov. 18 at her home. She received many nice gifts.

The 15 children at the party were given blowouts, balloons and bubble gum for favors and they also played games. Rosebud cupcakes and ice cream were served for refreshments.

Assisting Mrs. Browning in serving were Mrs. W. L. Carter, Mrs. McDowell Turner and Susan and Ellen Turner.

Garden Club Meets

Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16 the Daffodil Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Guerin with Mrs. Wayne Russell as co-hostess. There were 12 members and one associate member, Mrs. E. P. Young Jr., present.

"We're for Christmas Outdoor Decoration" was the program which Mrs. Duffie Booth presented. Yellow mums and dried arrangements were seen in the home.

During the business meeting the club voted to have landscaping of the Youth Center grounds as a club project. For refreshments cake and coffee were served.

Coffee Honor's Bride-Elect

A morning coffee for Miss Denny Hefner, bride-elect of Vernie Edwards was given by Mrs. Bill Rounton and Mrs. Lloyd Guerin Saturday, Nov. 18 in the Rounton home.

Corsages of dried fall flowers were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Byron Heiner, and Mrs. Mike Schneider, mother of the groom-elect. The house was decorated with miniature mementos.

Silver and magenta were the colors used on the serving table for decorations. Mrs. Hefner poured the coffee, and assorted daily tidbits were also served. Mrs. Schneider had charge of the guest book.

A gift of silver was presented Miss Heiner by the hostesses.

Trujillo's Abandon Dictator Plan

By ROBERT BERNELLEZ

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Bowling to a U.S. show of force and opposition from young Dominican air force generals, the Trujillo clan today appeared to have abandoned an attempt to set up a new dictatorship in this Caribbean republic.

President Joaquin Balaguer, pledged to set the nation on the road to democracy, extended his control as 29 top Trujillo officials slipped out of the country at midnight aboard a chartered airliner.

Two brothers of slain dictator Rafael L. Trujillo led the exodus of the crumbling family dynasty that ruled the country for 31 years virtually as a private plantation. The two—Gen. Hector Trujillo, a former president, and Gen. Jose Arismendi Trujillo, who had his own army—went originally into exile three weeks ago but returned quietly last week in what the United States charged appeared to be a desperate attempt to seize power.

Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., son of the former dictator who reportedly was at odds with his uncles, quit as commander-in-chief of the armed forces last week when they came back and sailed away in his yacht.

Balaguer, himself a former front man for the old dictator, still faced the prospect of difficulties with strong opposition party elements in carrying out his pledge to bring democracy to the country.

Some opposition leaders were openly suspicious that the threat from the Trujillo faction was not really over. "The pro-Trujillos are too smug about the entire situation," one said.

The president took over supreme command of the military and proclaimed an emergency, just short of martial law.

Balaguer won pledges of support from the new leaders of the armed forces after warning that squabbling could lead to "foreign military intervention"—a clear allusion to U.S. warships and Marine Corps air units hovering offshore.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk had offered Balaguer troops if he needed them to thwart restoration of a Trujillo dictatorship. But there was no indication that the Dominican leader had requested any outside help.

Gen. Pedro Rafael Rodriguez Echavarria, 37-year-old commander of the air force base at Santiago, led the local show of support for Balaguer.

He and other young generals issued a communique saying the air force would "tolerate no attempt to institute in the country a tyrannical or reactionary regime."

Glitter and sparkle for the holiday whirl is found in fashions that lure with gold. Short gold lame dinner dress (left) by Larry Aldrich is woven of nylon and metallic yarns, then beaded in pearls and brilliants. Evening greatcoat by Originala (right) is in gold and silver tweed. It is cut with wide back and dolman sleeves along the lines of a day coat.

DOROTHY DIX

Does the Shoe Fit the Other Foot?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Why can't parents remember they were once young? My folks say they'd rather see me dead than married to this boy I love.

Mom and Dad eloped because her parents were against her marrying Dad and she only 17. I am 16 and the boy 25. He would give me the shirt off his back. We've known each other three whole years and our love is stronger than ever.

Nineteen months ago he went to jail for being with boys who did wrong. Now he's out and the better for that hard experience. But when I tried to tell this to my parents I was beaten with a belt and had welts that bled on my back and legs. Mom said the beating was to keep me from going with this boy. Its only effect is to make me love him the more.

Now, my folks are all for a guy who doesn't even have his divorce. He wants to marry me as soon as the divorce is granted. Mom says she'll gladly sign since I would still be under age.

The very thought of this man makes me sick. My life has not been pretty. I quit school at 14, to take care of our house and my baby sister, so Mom could go to work. We live in the country. If it weren't for my little sister and the boy I love, I'd go crazy. Help me. —Despairing

Dear Despairing: There is always a way out but I'm not sure yours lies with either man. The background of the first one, much as you love him, is questionable. A man of 25 ought to know the difference between right and wrong. Whatever the reason for his jail sentence, you're too young to cope with that problem.

As for the second man, if your mother had your welfare at heart she wouldn't encourage him. So, you've got to look out for yourself. What you must ultimately find is a paying job away from home. To qualify, it will be necessary to complete your education. See the principal of your former school. Explain the situation and ask for counsel on home studies. Where there's a will, there's a way.

Dear Helen: My problem is a tenant who can't make her eyes behave when she sees my husband. This has been going on ever since she and her man moved in. I told her we needed the property. My husband says we don't. When I protested, he charged around the house like a raging bull, claiming he will call the law if I persist in ousting this Jezebel.

Hasn't a wife a community interest in properly she has saved and scrimped to help buy? I'm about ready to pull up stakes and move out myself. Should I get an attorney? —Tired and Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: Let reason, not emotion, rule. Think this through. There is little turning back if you bring an attorney into the picture. That is, tantamount to writing finis to your marriage. Do you want a divorce? Does your husband? Ask him. Property rights vary. Check with the Secretary of State at the capital of your state. Once you are sure of your rights have a frank talk with your husband and "don't lose your temper." To do so is to lose control of the situation.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Cautious Parents."

Reds Arrest 2 More Tourists

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today announced the arrest of two more West German tourists and said they will be tried for spying for the United States.

Three days ago the Soviets announced arrest on espionage charges of two other West German tourists. They also were accused of working for the United States. Charges of two other West German

Soviet Church Admitted to World Group

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Russian Orthodox Church was admitted today to the World Council of Churches amid misgivings and considerable acclamation.

The step came as believers of nearly every kind and culture began the most widely inclusive Christian convocation of the modern era.

Outside the meeting place at the Vignar Bhawan Temple of Learning a picket carried a sign reading "Russian clergy are Communist agents, not servants of God."

But among church envoys here for the council's third general assembly, vigorous applause greeted the action seating the 16-man Russian Church delegation.

Each member denomination—175 Protestant, Orthodox, Anglican and Old Catholic bodies—was entitled to one vote. Two U.S. churches abstained—the Russian Orthodox Church in America and the Hungarian Reformed Church in America.

The Rt. Rev. Zoltan Beky of Trenton, N.J., bishop of the Hungarian Church, voiced the fear Russian churchmen would use the council "as a platform for political purposes."

Other churchmen from East and West said the entry of the Russian Church broadened the scope of the Christian unity movement and gave ancient Eastern denominations full representation in it.

Twenty-two other church bodies were admitted, including the Bulgarian, Romanian and Polish Orthodox churches and two Chilean Pentecostal churches, the first Pentecostal groups to join the council.

The additions bring the council to 198 denominations with more than 300 million members in about 60 countries.

With the exception of the Roman Catholic Church, every major confession is now "strongly represented," said Dr. W. A. Visser 't'Hooft, the council general secretary.

Never before, he said, has a "greater variety of expressions of the Christian faith been brought together in one movement."

The Russian Church has a membership estimated from 30 to 90 million in a population of 250 million people.

Admission of the Russian Church culminated more than 10 years of negotiation. Dr. Visser 't'Hooft said council leaders became convinced that participation of the Russian Church would serve "the cause of Christ."

Bishops Fear for Morals of America

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's 229 Roman Catholic bishops have declared that moral principles are on the decline in the United States and that popular education "bears a measure of responsibility."

They urged rebuilding of a sound religious and moral foundation, saying the hour of greatest opportunity is striking now as the forces of freedom and tyranny grid for decision.

The prelates, in a 3,000-word statement issued Saturday at the close of their meeting, deplored what they called widespread evidence of moral decline.

In reference to education, the report said: "At first there was no intention of excluding either religion or morality from the common tax-supported school. But the diversity of our religious pattern and the rising pressure of secularism have produced the school without religion."

"The result is that our society is now faced with great numbers of young people almost completely devoid of religious belief and moral guidance — young people who are causing increasing concern at every level of the community and in all parts of the country."

Legislators to Look Over Books

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two proposals concerning the teaching of communism in Arkansas public schools confront the Arkansas Legislative Council Saturday. It will consider recommendations by the council education committee to have textbooks screened to remove any depicting the American way of life unfavorably and to set up a committee to study the possibility of teaching Americanism compared to communism.

Admission of the Russian Church culminated more than 10 years of negotiation. Dr. Visser 't'Hooft said council leaders became convinced that participation of the Russian Church would serve "the cause of Christ."

thing in his hand she thought to be a pail or bucket.
"Get down there!" he growled in a deep voice. He struck her and pushed her back down the stairs.

As the frightened blonde child went back into her room, she heard water sloshing on the deck and wondered if the captain was washing off the blood.

Harvey came into the room holding something she believed to be a rifle, stared at her, then left without saying anything and went back up on deck. She heard hammering noises on the deck.

Water began to rise in her room
and when it reached her mattress
she again climbed up to the deck and saw the ship's dinghy and rubber life raft had been launched.

"Is the boat sinking?" she asked.
"Yes," Harvey said. Then he jumped overboard, climbed into the dinghy and disappeared in the darkness of a moonless night.

A small cork raft was tied atop the main cabin and Terry managed to get it loose and climb aboard with the main deck awash.
Her story disputed in every detail Harvey's account of the sinking. He said that after the main mast broke, tearing holes in the deck and bottom of the ship, fire broke out and he was unable to get to the others through the flames.

Asked if the mother and brother were dead when Terry Jo saw them on the cabin floor, Barber said the investigators did not ask the child to go into any more grievous details.
She never saw her father, sister or Mary Harvey during the horror-filled night, Barber said.
Harvey took out a $20,000 double indemnity life insurance policy on Mary, who was his fourth or fifth wife, two weeks before the Blue-belle sailed from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for the Bahamas.

the freighter Captain Theo said
the sunburned and parched Terry Jo tried to paddle the raft with her hands through circling sharks toward the ship as it stopped to pick her up.

Capt. S. L. Coutsodontis, Greek skipper of the Captain Theo, said
the little girl couldn't talk for about 30 minutes.

The youngster's vitality enabled her to wave weakly as a Coast Guard helicopter took her from the Captain Theo to a Miami hospital.

She soon was reading the funnies and writing letters in her hospital room.

According to the report, this was her account:
She recognized the voice of her brother Brian as one of those screaming. She went outside of her room, saw her mother and Brian on the floor of the central cabin, and saw "a great deal of blood all over."

She climbed up to the main deck and saw blood on the after-deck and Capt. Julian Harvey coming toward her with something in his hand. When she asked him what happened, he told her in an angry voice "To get down there!" struck her and forced her back down the stairs.

She went to her bunk and heard water sloshing over the deck and thought "the captain might have been washing the blood off the deck."

The water was rising from the bilges into her room.
A short time later Harvey came into her room with something in his hand. She thought it was a rifle. He didn't speak to her but left the room and she heard hammering noises on the deck. By this time the water in the room had reached her mattress and she again went back up on the deck.
She saw the dinghy and the rubber raft in the water and asked Harvey if the boat were sinking.

He said "yes" and jumped overboard and got into the dinghy.
She didn't see him any more as he floated away into the darkness.
Then she untied the cork raft on top of the cabin and got into the water just as the main deck became awash. She said the mast did not break and she saw or smelled no fire. She heard no shots.

The child spent 3 1/2 days clinging to the raft.
Harvey was rescued but committed suicide last Friday.

Terry Jo lost her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Dupperault; a sister, Renee, 8; and brother, Brian, 14, in the sinking of the 60-foot ketch.

Harvey, 45, whose wife, Mary,
also perished, said a squall dismasted the craft and it sank after

Tittle Leads Giants Over the Steelers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Y. A. Tittle, New York's bald bomber, has passed the Giants into first place in the National Football League's Eastern Conference donnybrook, but he needed a record-breaking performance by Cleveland's Jimmy Brown to complete the job.

While Tittle was leading the Giants to a 42-21 thumping of Pittsburgh with a three-TD performance, Brown rushed for a game record of 242 yards and scored four touchdowns as the Browns blitzed Philadelphia 43-24 Sunday and knocked the Eagles out of a tie for the top spot.

Brown, league ground gaining champion all four years he's been in the NFL, eclipsed his own mark of 237 yards set in a game in 1957 by averaging over seven yards a carry, and added 52 yards by catching three passes.

The loss was Philadelphia's second in succession—the Giants administered a 38-21 beating last week—and dropped the defending champions into a second-place tie with the Browns, one game back of the Giants. New York is 8-2, Cleveland and Philadelphia 7-3.

The Green Bay Packers, playing for the first time without scoring king Paul Hornung, maintained their 1 1/2 game edge in the Western Conference race by whipping Los Angeles 35-17 for an 8-2 record with four games to play.

The Detroit Lions, runners-up in the West at 6-3-1, rolled to a 37-10 victory over Minnesota while San Francisco put a damper on Chicago's hopes with a 41-31 triumph over the Bears. Baltimore blanked St. Louis 16-0 and Washington ended its losing streak by tying Dallas 28-28.

Tittle, veteran of 14 pro campaigns, completed 19 of 28 passes for 314 yards and made it 13 TD pitches for the season with a nine-yard flip to Joe Walton, a 38-yarder to Alex Webster and a 20-yarder to Kyle Rote. Rote also pulled in a 10-yard touchdown toss from halfback Bob Gaiters while Webster picked up another score on a 32-yard jaunt.

The Giants, winning their eighth in nine games, went ahead to stay on Gaiters' three-yard burst in the second period after a 58-yard Tittle to Rote pass had set it up.

Buddy Dial scored twice for the Steelers (4-6) on a 15-yard pass from Rudy Bukich and a three-yarder from Bobby Layne, back in action after five weeks.

Brown scored his TDs on runs of 2, 4, 1 and 8 yards while Bobby Mitchell, on a weekend pass from the Army, scored the other touchdowns on a 28-yard pass from Milt Plum and a 91-yard kickoff return. Lou Groza added a field goal to the Browns' output and with six conversions brought his NFL career point total to 813, 12 short of the record held by Green Bay's Don Hutson.

Sonny Jurgensen connected with Tommy McDonald on an eight-yarder TD toss and wound up the scoring with a 33-yard toss to Tim Brown.

Trailing 7-0, the Packers exploded for 28 points against the Rams (3-7) in the second quarter when Bart Starr unlimbered his pitching arm. Jim Taylor tied it on a one-yard plunge, then Starr hit Max McGee with 20 and 13-yard TD tosses and sent a 12-yarder to Boyd Dowler. Jan Arnet had sent Los Angeles into the early lead on a 14-yard run.

Earl Morrall took over for starting quarterback Jim Ninowski with the Vikings (5-4-1) and led the Lions from behind with a pair of payoff passes to Terry Barr and a 37-yarder to Gail Cogdill. Jerry Reichow scored the Minnesota TD on a 23-yard pitch from Fran Tarkenton.

John Brodie, passing for a straight T as the 49ers (5-4-1) virtually abandoned the shotgun offense, hit Monte Siskles with a 44-yard touchdown pass and threw 71 and 46-yarders to rookie Aaron Thomas to beat the Bears (6-5).

Billy Wade threw three TD passes for the Bears, who lost their third in a row.

Steve Myhra kicked three field goals for the Colts (5-5) after the Johnny Unitas to Lenny Moore combination had connected for a 17-yard scoring pass and the only touchdown against the Cards (4-6), who were unable to penetrate beyond the Baltimore 42.

Dick Bilefski took a three-yard strike from Eddie LeBaron to end an 82-yard march with two minutes left that gave the Cowboys (4-5-1) a tie with the Redskins. It was Washington's 20th straight game without a win, but snapped a 17-game losing streak for a 6-9-1 record.

Coach Broyles Made History Repeat a Bit

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas football Coach Frank Broyles literally dreamed up the play that gave Arkansas a 69-yard touchdown pass and the key to a 20-7 Southwest Conference victory over SMU in Dallas Saturday.

The triumph, coupled with Texas' 6-0 loss to TCU, tied the Razorbacks for first place in the conference and put them in position to win part or all of the championship for the third year in a row.

Twelve years ago, when Broyles was backfield coach at Baylor, he had a dream about a long pass play which his team used to score on the first play against SMU.

He put the play to work for the Bears, and sure enough Adrian Burk passed 60 yards to Dudley Parker for a touchdown on the first play of a game with the Ponies in 1949.

Hayden Fry followed Broyles at Baylor as assistant coach some years later, and picked up the play. When he came to Arkansas this year as assistant he brought it with him.

Meanwhile, Broyles had become

THEY'RE FOOLIN'—Robert Preston and Debbie Reynolds appear to be in dead earnest but, actually, they're only clowning with bull whips between scenes in their new film, "How the West Was Won."

AFL Likely Has Jumped Draft Gun

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Indications were mighty strong today that the American Football League has pulled a similar stunt to 1960—jumped the gun on the draft. Only this time it violates an agreement with the American Football Coaches Association.

There could be a lot of trouble, especially from the NCAA, but apparently nothing can be done about it except talk.

Everybody apparently knew about it except Commissioner Joe Poff and his AFL office here—and Poff now has been apprised and has said he'll check into it.

Three newspapers reported that a secret draft had been held and such stars as Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Lance Alworth of Arkansas, Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Jim Saxton of Texas were among the selectees.

Some anonymous club officials were quoted that the draft had been held and one of them, a fellow with San Diego, told Jerry Magee of the San Diego Union, "The commissioner knew nothing about this. It was run by the owners."

The club owners are supposed to have held six rounds of the

St. Louis Hawks Have New Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Fuzzy Levane, who coached the club before it moved to St. Louis, was named today as coach of the strike-ridden St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

A former coach of the New York Knickerbockers, Levane, 41, replaces Paul Seymour, who was fired Friday.

Levane becomes the 17th coach in owner Ben Kerner's 15 years in pro basketball, if Levane is counted twice. Kerner dismissed Levane as coach of the old Milwaukee Hawks midway in the 1953-54 season.

The Hawks, five-time Western Division champs, now stand 6-9 for the season.

Kerner said Levane will coach the club for the remainder of the season. At the end of the season, Kerner said, they will decide together whether to continue the contract.

Blanda Hits 7 Times for Touchdowns

Associated Press Sports Writer

For a pappy guy who was supposed to be washed up a month ago, George Blanda is mighty active in professional football.

The 33-year-old quarterback, veteran of a dozen years in pro ranks, showed 'em Sunday that there's no substitute for experience—he threw seven touchdown passes in guiding Houston to its fifth straight victory in the American Football League.

The Oilers, with Blanda either passing for or kicking all the points — he booted seven extra points—bashed New York 49-13 to stay on top of the Eastern Division by a half-game.

The way the Oilers are moving, they look like a pretty good bet to administer the first defeat of the season to San Diego, already champion of the Western Division.

San Diego sailed over, Dallas 24-14 Sunday for its eleventh straight league victory. But beating Dallas is no particular accomplishment—the Texans have lost six straight.

The only other game of importance last week was Boston's 20-17 victory over Oakland. The Patriots stayed tightly in the race for the Eastern Division championship. They don't play Houston again this season but they do play San Diego, which makes things equal.

Buffalo beat Denver 23-16 in a so-what game. Neither team is going anywhere right now and Denver obviously will never get there even if it made a big effort.

Anything but a feeling of fellowship was prevalent in the Houston-New York game. There were more fights than Madison Square Garden could afford, with three players being put out for their fists. Both benches were emptied at one stage.

There were 193 yards in penalties assessed, mostly because of the fighting. This tied a league record but wasn't as important as Blanda's seven touchdown throws, which broke his own record of four set last year.

Crippled Copter Landed Safely

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A Texas pilot landed his crippled helicopter safely on a grassy spot in a super-highway cloverleaf near here Sunday.

The pilot, Fred Porter, 43, of San Antonio, said the trim-tabs went out at 600 feet and he had to cut the motor and glide the helicopter to a crash-landing.

Porter was not hurt. He estimated damage to the craft at $5,000. He said it cost $27,000.

Porter, a retired Air Force officer, was flying the helicopter from Little Rock to San Antonio. It had been ferried to Little Rock from Valparaiso, Ind., by another pilot.

He landed the helicopter beside U.S. Highway 67, a four-lane part of the interstate highway system. One more minute of flight would have put him over Benton, he said, and he would have had to try to land on top of a building.

draft by telephone several weeks before Commissioner Poff set the official date of the draft for Dec. 2—the day of final college games.

Poff, in announcing the draft, said he was complying with an NCAA request not to hold the player selection until the close of the college season.

The Dallas News first broke the secret draft. Then the Union chimed in and next came the Houston Post to confirm it.

Last year the AFL held part of its draft a month earlier than the National Football League.

The Dallas News said it got the first wind of the secret draft from a Southwest Conference coach, who said he figured there had been one because the pros kept calling.

Poff said he didn't believe it had been done but he did admit that the AFL owners had been contacting college players they would like to draft, "just like the National Football League has been doing. But that doesn't mean we've held a draft or tried to sign anybody."

Once-Mighty Texas Downed by the Frogs

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

While Alabama, the king of college football, debates which bowl offer to accept, a full-scale flub has broken out today, triggered by speculation that the University of Colorado was about to be snubbed by the Orange Bowl.

Alabama, one of the two remaining major unbeaten powers since the stunning 6-0 defeat of Texas by Texas Christian Saturday, apparently has its choice of the Rose Bowl or Cotton Bowl.

Bama Coach Bear Bryant confirmed his club had been approached to play in the Rose Bowl, indicating the tradition of plucking a Big Ten Team for the Pasadena classic is being scrapped.

The Crimson Tide (9-0) can't accept anything until after its final game against Auburn Dec. 2, because of Southeastern Conference regulations. Alabama, No. 2 in the current Associated Press poll, crushed Georgia Tech 10-0 last Saturday.

Meanwhile, angry rumblings came from the University of Colorado after reports that the Orange Bowl favored Kansas. The Big Eight sends the visiting team to the Orange Bowl, but it does not have to select the champion.

Colorado (8-1) already has clinched at least a tie for the league title, but the Buffaloes, according to some members of the Orange Bowl committee, have been unimpressive in their last two starts. Kansas, beaten only by Colorado in the league, has won six straight with an explosive offense.

"The contract and the conference should be investigated if we are bypassed," thundered Colorado Coach Sonny Grandelius. "I don't care what anyone says, we're the conference champions."

Highest scratch game was 860 which is the highest series of Women League play at Gaslite this season.

Spring Hill Boys Post Two Wins

Spring Hill Junior boys downed Cale 45 to 22 Friday night and the Senior boys were even more impressive with a 91 to 29 victory over the Nevada County five.

In the Junior contest Gary Kidd and Mike Archer scored 14 points each for Spring Hill. Clint Kidd tallied 24 for the senior boys and R. Garner cashed in 20.

Cale's lone victory of the night was at the expense of the Senior girls 46 to 33. L. Sampson was high for Cale with 28. Pat Butler made 15 for Spring Hill and Janice Hatch had 13.

Tuesday night the Spring Hill teams journey to Guernsey.

Tech Takes It Out on Ozarks 67-7

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas Tech, infuriated by a 6-6 tie with Ouachita last week, took out its wrath on meek College of the Ozarks Saturday night, 67-7.

It closed out the season for Tech, and the Wonder Boys jotted down an 8-0-1 record and their second straight Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship.

Meanwhile, Southern State was bombing Arkansas A&M 35-13 and gaining a final tie with State Teachers for second place in the league race. Each lost two league games.

State Teachers beat Henderson 20-7 last Friday to wind up its season. Ouachita's Tigers take on tough Delta State of Mississippi in Arkadelphia on Thanksgiving Day.

Henderson plays at Southwestern Louisiana Saturday. The Tech-Ozarks game was a mere walkaway for the league's strongest team against the weakest. Ozarks finished at 0-4. Halfbacks Bill Curtis and Barney Phillips each scored three touchdowns for Tech. George Leonard picked up an Ozarks fumble and ran 73 yards. Quarterback B. J. Moore hit Curtis on a 30-yard scoring pass.

The Southern State-A&M fracas at Monticello was something else. Five touchdowns were scored in the first quarter. Quarterback Lanny Shofner ran for two Southern scores and passed 60 yards to Wayne Freppon for another.

Dave Alpe ran 3 and 10 yards for Southern scores in the first.

Porkers Need to Beat Tech for Bowl Bid

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks recipients of a late-season gift from TCU for the third straight year, begin preparing today to beat Texas Tech Saturday and wrap up at least part of the Southwest Conference championship.

Texas Christian knocked off the league leader for the third year in a row when it beat Texas 6-0 Saturday. And for the third consecutive season the Horned Frogs pushed Arkansas into the lead or a tie for it.

In 1959, TCU beat Texas after it whipped Arkansas and was streaking for the crown. In 1960, the Frogs beat Baylor after the Bears beat the Hogs.

Now Arkansas and Texas are 5-1, what with the Hogs having beat SMU, 20-7 and Arkansas' final standing and bowl fortunes depend on Saturday's game with Tech in Little Rock and Texas game with Texas A&M in College Station, Tex., on Thanksgiving.

If Texas loses or ties, and Arkansas wins, the Hogs would get the title and a Cotton Bowl berth. If Texas and Arkansas win, they'll share the title. Texas will go to the Cotton Bowl and Arkansas probably will go to the Sugar Bowl.

If Arkansas loses and Texas wins, the Longhorns will get the crown outright and Arkansas may or may not get a post-season bowl berth. The Birmingham "Post-Herald" said today Alabama is "in the bag" for the Sugar Bowl and Arkansas is the most likely opponent. An unidentified authoritative source was quoted.

Texas Tech won't be easy, especially since the Raiders had last week off to get ready for the Hogs. They beat TCU and Baylor and lost to SMU by only 8-7. Arkansas will be a heavy favorite, though, and it's expected to be a sellout.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles talked with Sugar Bowl officials after the SMU game.

The only thing surprising in the 20-7 victory over SMU was the fight the Ponies put up. Arkansas got on top with a 60-yard pass play touchdown on the first down. It went from George McKinney to Lance Alworth.

Alworth headed another touchdown drive with his ball-carrying and pass-catching and set up the third Arkansas score with a 20-yard run.

Paul Dudley ran 28 yards for one Razorback score in the first quarter, and fullback Billy Joe Mooty climbed one yard in the third quarter for the other score.

Fullback Joe Ed Clark rammed over from one for SMU's touchdown in the first quarter. It was a 44-yard drive headed by sophomore Jerry Rhome, who ran for 10 yards and passed for 21.

Fort Smith Top of Heap in Arkansas

Rembrandt Has Become Big Business

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—You can add Rembrandt today to AT&T and IBM and GM and all those others in your dreams of "If only I had—"

The dreams of getting rich simply by buying the right thing at the right time and holding on to it are probably as varied as they are numerous.

Typical ones center around the men, more mythical than numerous, who bought some of today's blue chip stocks back in the 1920s or 1930s and passively accepted all the subsequent stock splits and stock dividends. These fortunate ones still hold all the original purchase plus all the additions.

As the dream goes, such a man is now a millionaire without having had to do anything but withstand the temptations to sell along the way and take profits or to switch into something else that looked glamorous for a time, or to sell off portions of his holdings from time to time so he could live it up.

Rembrandt gets into the dream because blue chip paintings have gone up in price just as some stocks have.

A Rembrandt picture, "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer," first bought in 1928, was sold this week for $2.3 million. That's real blue chip money. And the capital gain was impressive.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Erickson bought the painting in 1928 for $750,000. After the stock market crash in 1929 they sold it for $500,000. But when business looked up in 1934 they bought it back for $500,000. Their outlay thus was $840,000, plus any commission fees they may have paid, and not forgetting that $250,000 loss on the first sale.

To this could be added the cost of insurance they doubtless took out over the years. And allowance should be made for the fact that the Rembrandt, while they owned it, paid them no interest or dividends—beyond those of enjoyment which can't be priced.

But even so, the sale by the Erickson estate represents a striking gain in dollar-value for the painting over the years, even counting in whatever taxes may be involved.

Recent months have seen many other examples of the rapid rise in the price of old masters and of other more recent paintings by artists now fashionable.

It puts art right up there with the glamor stocks in the matter of capital gains. It also shows how art, as well as stocks, can be a hedge against inflation.

The $840,000 the Ericksons invested in the Rembrandt painting would have bought a lot more of most goods and services than it would today. And the cut in the dollar's purchasing power over the years must be taken into account in viewing the $2.3 million sales price.

But before you feel too sorry about an opportunity missed—whether it was in buying Rembrandts, or stocks in AT&T, IBM or GM, or may other shares now worth so much more than 30 years ago, just ask yourself:

Did you have the money then to

Shelters for Fallout Big Business Now

By JOHN JUTTON

Associated Press Staff Writer
Fallout shelter building is becoming a part of big business in Arkansas.

Latest figures from the state

invest in paintings or in stocks? And if you did buy stocks, weren't some of them the glamor ones of the period, that may now be worth less than they were then, or whose companies may have folded in the interim?

Having the money and knowing the really good ones and being gifted with a sixth sense about all the unexpected things that might happen—that's a hard combination.

And that's why there'll always be dreams about how wealthy you'd be "If only I had—"

Civil Defense office show 1,505 shelters have been completed or are under construction now in Arkansas, with 1,000 of these in Pulaski County where 54 are finished. Carroll County has 51 completed, Baxter County 23 and Yell County 16.

Owen Payne, state CD director, said 14 new businesses have either started or expanded into the shelter field in recent months in Arkansas.

The Arkansas Legislature is involved in shelters as are many individuals across Arkansas who have already contracted for their own.

The Legislature appropriated $100,000 to match federal funds for three shelters including a 150-person unit at Gov. Orval E. Faubus' hometown, Huntsville, another 65-person shelter at Newport and at Little Rock, one to house 150 persons.

These are planned as part of the State Police office and communications network. Civil Defense officials who got the shelter ball rolling estimate a simple basement-type unit equipped with essential food and sanitary facilities, can be built for $350-400.

Payne compares shelter-building with buying a car.

"One can buy an inexpensive car which will get him where he's going . . . or an elaborate one to do the same job," he said.

It's the same for shelters.

For fallout purposes, officials say the inexpensive basement shelter is adequate.

Plans can be obtained from any local civil defense office or the state headquarters at Conway.

And plans for the more expensive shelters are also available.

Payne said the most elaborate shelter he has encountered in Arkansas, though he won't divulge its location, cost $20,000 and is a concrete-type, sunk below ground. In North Little Rock a real estate dealer has agreed to furnish a community shelter housing 500 persons in a recently opened subdivision.

Ground has been broken for the 50,000 shelter which won't have to wait for an attack to be useful. The 40-foot by 100-foot structure will be nine feet below ground. Above, a dual purpose swimming pool will be built along with tennis courts and other recreational facilities.

In case of disaster, officials said, water from the pool could be diverted below and used for sanitary purposes. Drinking water is to be provided by a well within the shelter.

Most shelter owners in Arkansas, and the number is growing rapidly, make use of the shelter on a non-emergency as an extra bedroom, a study or den.

Payne warns potential shelter buyers to beware of "fly-by-night" outfits.

"Before a family buys a prefabricated shelter," Payne said, "it should obtain a certificate from the dealer guaranteeing that the structure meets specific government standards."

While current emphasis is being placed primarily on the single family-type unit, other studies are being conducted including cave surveys. Payne said the University of Arkansas has most of Arkansas' numerous caves catalogued but further studies are to be made on the feasibility of their use.

In addition, Payne said, the Corps of Engineers is surveying large buildings in Arkansas which may have basement facilities adequate to house the public in case of disaster.

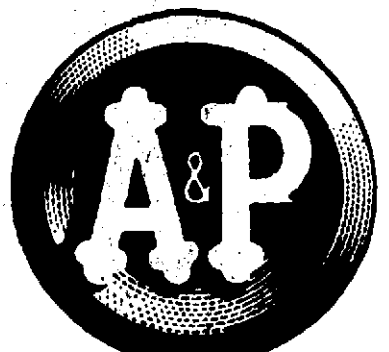

This latter study is expected to be completed within a year, Payne said.

CD officials are hopeful these surveys may lead to inexpensive public shelters.

ARSENAL HAS NO CANNON

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Redstone Arsenal, the Army's center of missile and rocket research, couldn't find a cannon with which to render a 19-gun salute to Belgian Ambassador Louis Schevven.

An appeal to Ft. Benning Ga., brought a unit of the 10th Artillery Battalion.

FOAM, SWEET FOAM—Its white walls suggesting the interior of an igloo, this building is made entirely of urethane foam. First, a nylon envelope, held rigid by air pressure, was erected. Then about six inches of foam was sprayed against the inside of the nylon. Extra foam was sprayed to form reinforcing arches. Prefabricated doorway was installed in opening cut in a wall and building was ready.
